

It's an old game and I'm not sure if it is illegal to take it off. I could just start up the game and kill the IL2 BOS Key CD. I'm not doing this if the game is in a program that is illegal to take it from the store [piracy ! Likuid Likuid: piracy discussion and other questionably legal practices are not welcome in the Ubuntu channels. Please take this discussion elsewhere or abstain from it altogether. This includes linking to pirated software, music, and video. Also see!guidelines and!o4o Also, the keyboard commands are all different to those you can set in the keyboard shortcuts. I mean the shortcuts for windows that are set on my keyboard, like Alt-Tab for example, are not set by default when the game starts. I can also not bind my mouse to to enter the game world. The process for it involves selecting "Maps" and clicking "new map" and then selecting the one that is currently running. Anthaas that's IL2 -- it's a military shooter :D Why on earth is that an issue? Anthaas guess you'll have to wait for someone who knows Well, I don't feel like waiting. I could play and have the same settings that I was having last time I played. I know that my keyboard will be fixed. I have no interest in developing in the genre, really. I just want a smooth game that works in a way that is similar to how I expect Windows to work. ok Hitting space to exit doesn't load up a menu with the options like it does on Windows, it just opens a new game. Hitting escape just logs out. Anthaas maybe try asking in #winchq And alt-tab doesn't work. Winchq? Is that a different IRC server? Anthaas wrong channel, try #wine

December 26, 2018 8e" But about a year ago, I received the il2-bos and bom License Keys upon purchase, after which I activated the game on the IL2 OFFICIAL SITE!>¿. In the end, I had the opportunity to play the game. However, after a while, I wanted to purchase another il2-bos and bom license key in order to continue playing the game. And so, in April 2019, I decided to purchase a second il2-bos license key from an official il2 dealer - <http://www.elite-games.ru/store/search.pl?q=il2> but after activating the game I got a message that my card was charged for a six il2-bos license key, at which point the game fffad4f19a
